

MAYSVILLE DAILY LEDGER

FIFTH YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., FRIDAY, JULY 24, 1896.

ONE CENT.

Sheep CIRCULATION
LARGEST IN THE CITY.

Purely Business!

The columns of a newspaper represent a cash value. No publisher can afford to give advertising "notions" free any more than a merchant can give away his counter free gifts of goods or shoes. A newspaper is a legitimate business concern. Its columns are its stock in trade, and advertisements should be paid for, no matter in what part of the paper they appear.

The Continued Call

Upon THE LEDGER for free notices have become so burdensome that we are forced to publish the following terms:

For Notices of Suppers, receptions, fetes, or other public entertainments where a fee is charged, and for obituary notices, resolutions of respect, etc. THE LEDGER will charge FIVE CENTS A LINE, and heretofore this will be the inviolable rule. This, however.

Does Not Include

notices of Lodge meetings or Church services, which must not exceed ten lines.

Avoidance of Disputes.

Misunderstandings are unpleasant. The rate for Business Leads in THE LEDGER is 10 cents a line for the first insertion and 5 cents a line for each subsequent insertion. A customer orders a five-line notice in the ledger. "I tell you when to take it out," he says to the bookkeeper. But the bookkeeper all about it. The notice runs for two months—24 lines—that is $12.00. When he finds it out there is a "kick" and a controversy, followed probably by an acrimonious. Let's have a definite agreement at the outset and the termination will be pleasant all around.

For All matter for publication must be in before 9 o'clock in the morning of each day.

Colonel T. Marsh Fleming will next year be a candidate for the Legislature from Fleming county.

Mr. John Casey, whose illness was mentioned a few days since at Cincinnati, died there on Saturday last.

Tobacco worms are said to be more plentiful than they have been for some years, and are doing great injury to the crop.

The Democratic Executive Committee of Mason County is called to meet at the Central Hotel tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Harry F. Taylor, formerly of Flemingsburg, was married in Cincinnati to Miss Olive M. Hardin of that city. Mr. Taylor is a son of Mrs. Thornton Taylor.

The annual report of the Murphysville Turnpike Company shows balance July 1st, 1895, $294.65, receipts $1,478.62, expenditures $1,488.63, leaving balance on hand $279.64.

The report of the Germantown and Lowell Turnpike Company shows receipts of $288.40 and expenses of $288.15, leaving a balance of $23.25. The balance of the old debt is $1,072.68.

Fred Traxler's name is so intimately connected with good bread and delicious leavening that it is almost synonymous to the other. If you want the very best in these lines, Traxler's is the place to get it.

Miss Nettie Albright left her home near Springfield Sunday evening and last night returned. Her father for bade her keeping company with a certain young man, and it is thought she has joined him for a journey through life.

Miss Lizzie M. Coburn died at the residence of her brother, Mr. John Coburn, at Stearns, Ark., after a lingering illness of many years. The deceased was born in Mason county June 28th, 1857, and died on her birthday, being 39 years old.

Mr. Ed P. Browning has—or at least he had—a great variety of grapes at his handsome place in the West End; but a few nights since his vines were completely stripped of the just ripening fruit. The invaders are evidently of the opinion that in this era of "free" things the Populist platform has also provided for the free coinage of grapes.

Emory Kibler, an aged citizen of Manchester, has been ordered out to Court in $200 for threatening to shoot James Bradford of the same town. Young Bradford was promenading with a couple of lady friends Tuesday evening when he accused Kibler of following him, whereupon the latter, it is said, pulled a revolver and threatened to kill Bradford.

FELLOW FEELING.

It Is This Which "Makes All the World Akin!"

When the news of Henry Wadsworth's unfortunate reached Knoxville, the members of the Baseball Club of that city were saddened, and their regrets find expression in the following telegram from Manager McFlett:

KNOXVILLE, TENN., July 23d.
Henry Wadsworth, Mayfield, Ky.: The Knoxville Baseball Club extends deepest sympathy in your misfortune.

T. H. MOFFETT.
This evidence of fraternal good-will and genuine fellowship is a credit to human-kind.

There are a whole lot of humbugs around Cincinnati who think they can play ball and are advertising for dates with the Mayville Club. Our books are full for a couple of weeks ahead.

The Mayville Club leaves Monday for Lexington, where they play two games—Monday and Tuesday afternoons. Tuesday evening they leave Lexington for Knoxville, where they play a series of games with the Indians.

Dennis McGann, ex-Captain of the Mayville team, came in yesterday afternoon on the F. V. to see his many friends in this city. He was on his way back to Lynchburg, he having been called home last Friday to attend the funeral of his father. Cap. is looking fine, and says his treatment in the Vir-

MAYSVILLE—SPIDERS.

YESTERDAY'S GAME DECLARED OFF—TOO MUCH RAIN.

The rain yesterday afternoon prevented a repetition of history—a Waterloo—and it also prevented a large crowd from going out to witness the s.l.v.

The Spiders were not mud horses, as yesterday's start of the exhibition proved. The pitcher, who tried to make the Locals believe that all was well within his web, proved a dismal failure.

He was as wild as an Indian, and was frightened at the prospects that were before him.

The start he made was anything but flattering to the man behind him, as the first two men up walked and the next that followed made the spectators who had braved the elements think they were at a Fourth of July celebration, as every time the ball came up it was smashed into smithereens.

Only three runs were scored in the Locals' first half, which proved that the Spiders fell easy victims into the web the boys had woven for them the day previous, and in the next inning they made another run.

They couldn't hit Bolly because they didn't want to.

The day previous the Locals saw the game in "killing" the Spiders simply because they could, and well did the Spiders know the Locals could have done it had there been the least inclination on their part to do so.

Lever was at his best, and so were the boys behind him, even Newton feeling like a two-year-old, and with such material at this there would have been little use of a League Club fooling around in the Park, let alone the Spiders.

At the end of the first half of the third inning it was found necessary to call in the jobs in order that the crowd might get out to the streets before life preservers were needed, as the rain began pouring down in torrents and stopped what promised to be a one-sided slugging match.

When the game was called the score stood—
Mayville, 4;
Spiders, 0.

NOTES.
Moneybag of the Spiders stayed here last night, and it is thought he will go South with the boys.

Newton hit the ball yesterday for two buns, and some people expressed surprise. Newt wasn't.

Sammy Lewis left yesterday for his home at Goshen, O., where he will spend several days with his parents before leaving on the Southern trip.

THE LEONARD, as usual, will give the correct news from the games away from home. It's a wonder you wouldn't subscribe! Only one cent a day.

ginia League is all that could be expected. He left last night on the 10.36 Atlantic Express over the C. and O.

Here's a good piece of advice some of our fans and rooters can read and get some good pointers from:

"A writer in Chicago Sunday consumed the best part of a column to tell that baseball players, as a rule, are not roughs. This statement will scarcely be denied in any quarter. In no class of athletics are there so many men—good and true men, who have characters and brains and manners—as among baseball players. The very people, in some instances, who urge the players to acts of ruffianism on the diamond are those who later condemn them for it. People will sit in the grand stand and howl for players to 'hit the Umpire,' they will hoot at his decisions, and in every way possible urge players to acts of violence. This condition of affairs will very likely maintain until some time in the future League magnates will discipline spectators as well as players.

A rule be passed restricting personal liberties at the Umpire from the grand stand and bleachers. Let it be understood that while every one is at liberty to cheer as vociferously as his lung power will permit, none shall have the right to make any of those participating in the game the target of his vituperations."

The other candidates are Colonel W. Larose Thomas of Mason, Hon. John B. Miles of Bracken, Dr. Smith of Harrison and Hon. James P. Allen of Fleming.

With Nearly Forty Years

Of successful experience in the manufacture of Watch Movements and Watch Cases, and with the mechanical knowledge gained in the construction of special machinery and tools necessary for the manufacture of watches, we have reason to believe that no factory in the world is better able to produce a bicycle of superior design and workmanship. Our machinery is the finest and most modern in existence. Our workmen are trained to a greater degree of accuracy than is usually observed in any bicycle factory. Where is the bicycle factory that is capable of producing a machine made equal to a Dueber-Hampden Watch or machinery required to manufacture same?

These Bicycles, as well as a full line of the Dueber-Hampden Watches, can be seen at

NEWS NOTES FROM NATURE'S GREAT HIGHWAY.

No more coal loaded at Pittsburgh—miners on a strike.

The towboats are hustling back to Pittsburgh with empties.

The Keystone State for Pittsburgh and Stanley for Kanawha river passed up last night.

The towboat J. C. Fisher, coming South with a tow of coal, struck the pier of the Allegheny bridge at Ninth street Wednesday night and knocked a hole in her hull. Constant pumping prevented her sinking.

The Paul Tulane, with over 100 passengers aboard, struck a snag in the lower Mississippi near Corn Plantation Wednesday night and sunk shortly after. All the passengers and crew were saved. Boat and cargo total loss. She was one of the finest of coast packets, built at Jeffersonville eight years ago at a cost of $50,000.

Again the talk has been revived at Cincinnati of the necessity of a fire marine or patrol boat for river service. The annual losses to steamers by pirates and pilferers is large. At the time of wrecks nearly everything of value is stolen by men in skiffs who seem to come from everywhere at once. There should be a patrol boat in constant service.

The Ohio is booming at many points. At Pittsburgh the river rose 10.4, making an unprecedented stage for the month of July there of 14.4. It rose 7.9 at the Dam, where the marks show 13.7. At Parkersburg there was a rise of 6.4, with a 204 foot stage. Kanawha at Charleston has reached 54 feet and New river will be rising Friday. There is 1.8 at Oil City and rising. Pt. Pleasant marks show 17.5, a rise of 3.7 and the rise is beginning to be felt at Cateletsburg, where there is 18.5.

REPUBLICAN EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The members of the Mason County Republican Executive Committee are requested to attend a meeting in the parlor of the Central Hotel in this city, at 3 o'clock p. m., on Saturday, July 25th, 1906.
CLARENCE MATTHEWS, Chairman.
S. T. RICHMAN, Secretary.

It is said that BRYAN will not get a single Mugwump vote in the United States, and they are three hundred thousand strong.

WHEN you come to think of it, McKINLEY is the only man who is running on a real Jeffersonian platform; and it is a fact, also, that he is the nominee of the same party that Mr. JEFFERSON belonged to—the Republican.

THE Washington correspondent of The Courier-Journal says it kills HILL and those New York Democrats a long time to make up their minds what they want to do. It looks now like there was going to be a big row and rumpus in New York over the action of the Chicago Convention. It will all end in a split and about 150,000 majority for McKINLEY.

HON. RANDOLPH BARTON, one of the Democratic Electors-at-Large in Maryland, has withdrawn and will vote for McKINLEY. Mr. BARTON, who is a prominent lawyer in Baltimore, has always been regarded as being one of the staunchest Democrats in Maryland. He supported HILL in the late gubernatorial campaign, and has never been known to vote any other than the Democratic ticket. He declares now that he cannot accept the currency plank in the Democratic National platform, and it is his intention to vote for McKINLEY.

It appears that BILLY BRYAN has been using that tremendous speech since December 22d, 1894, when he first introduced it in the House of Representatives in Washington. Then he said:
"Notwithstanding all these influences in favor of bimetalism, the money centers present this insolent demand for further legislation in favor of an universal gold standard. I for one will not yield to the demand. I will not help to crucify mankind upon a cross of gold. I will not aid them to press down upon the bleeding brow of labor the crown of thorns."

By the time it reached Chicago the brow of labor had stopped bleeding, and he put it in this way:

"Having behind us the commercial interests and the laboring interests, and all the tolling masses, we shall answer their demands for a gold standard by saying to them, you shall not press down upon the brow of labor this crown of thorns. You shall not crucify mankind upon a cross of gold."

After this chestnut exhibition of the Honorable WIND JAMIES-BRYAN's wonderful oratory, who shall say that he is not a resplendent blatherer!

THREE COINAGE PLANKS.

The Coinage Plank of the Chicago Platform Was the Populist Plank of 1892, and Not the Platform of the Democracy.

From the National Democratic Platform of 1892.

"We hold to the use of both gold and silver as the standard money of the country, and the coinage of both gold and silver without discriminating against either metal, or charge for mintage, but the dollar unit of coinage of both metals must be of equal intrinsic and exchangeable value, or be adjusted through international agreement, or such safeguards of legislation as shall insure the maintenance of the parity of the two metals and the equal power of every dollar at all times in the markets and in the payment of debts, and we demand that all paper currency shall be kept at par with and redeemable in such coin. We insist upon this policy as especially necessary for the protection of the farmers and laboring classes, the first and the most defenseless victims of unstable money and a fluctuating currency."

From the National Populist Platform of 1892.

"We demand free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1."

From the Chicago Democratic Platform of 1890.

"We demand the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting for the aid or consent of any other Nation."

It will be observed that the Democratic platform of 1892 was Democratic; its builders and those who stood upon it were Democrats from principle; and the insistence that money was "necessary for the protection of the farmers and laboring classes, the first and most defenseless victims of unstable money and a fluctuating currency," has especial force now that the name of Democracy has been usurped by the Anarchist-Populist rabble that dominated the Chicago Convention, and that they are asking Democrats to vote for a financial system that will make vassals of our farmers and paupers of our laborers.

Democratic friend, please compare the Populist platform of 1892 with the Chicago platform of 1896, and ask yourself if this is the sort of Democracy that your fathers taught?

ENORMOUS SILVER DEPOSITS

AND YET THE FREE SILVERITES WANT MORE OF IT.

Correspondence Courier-Journal.

Uncle Sam feels a bit sad, and no wonder. He will be compelled to buy all the silver that is offered to him, if the Democrats have their way. You wouldn't suppose that he wanted any more, if you took a look through the Treasury building. One huge box of iron lattice work, 100 feet long, sixty feet wide and 14 feet high, in the basement, is chock full of cartwheel dollars. They are in bags of $1,000 each, which are packed in pine wood cases to keep out the damp. There are 30,000,000 dollars in that box. The whole mass weighs about 3,000 tons. The carts required for carrying the money would form a procession stretching more than twenty miles.

How it would make the Populists' mouth water to look on such a parade. But this is by no means the whole of the stock of silver dollars kept on hand in Washington. In other vaults are 38,000,000 more. And, if these are not enough, you can find 227,000,000 additional cart wheels in various Mints and Sub-Treasuries, mostly in Philadelphia, New York and San Francisco. When it is considered that only about 50,000,000 silver dollars altogether are in circulation at present, it will be apparent that the Government is in no danger of running short of them. For years past, while Uncle Sam has been holding on to this enormous stock of the white metal, the market value of it has been going steadily down, down, down.

If you will drop in at the Mint in Philadelphia, you will have a chance to look at some more silver that belongs to the Government—not coined dollars, but bullion. There is something very impressive to the eye about this immense accumulation of wealth in the crude. You see it stacked up here and there in the shape of bricks. If you had permission to take what you could carry, you would not be able to get away with more than about $1,000 worth; silver is so cheap now. The Quaker City Mint at present holds $107,000,000 worth of these ingots—coining value. They take up a lot of room; 1,000,000 ounces of silver bricks occupy the space of 120 cubic feet.

The great advantage of silver as money, from the point of view of the Chicago platform, is that it is cheap. There is every prospect that it will become much cheaper. The supply in it is practically unlimited. Look at the Rocky Mountains, they are largely made of silver. The entire mountain chain that forms the backbone of the continent, from Alaska to Cape Horn, is full of the white metal. You can hardly strike it anywhere without coming upon a silver mine. Thus it is not surprising to find that the Americas produce nearly the whole of the silver supply of the world. In 1895 the mines of the United States yielded 38,000,000 ounces of silver.

Fifty-eight million ounces! That seems a good deal, but it does not present a very clear notion of quantity to the mind. It would make a solid sphere 23 feet in diameter. Such a ball might be rolled down Broadway, New York, just avoiding interference with the pedestrians on the sidewalks. Its diameter would be about equal to the width of the street—from curb to curb. Either Cornelius or W. K. Vanderbilt could purchase it out-right without much inconvenience. It is doubtful if they would consider it a desirable investment. Mexico furnishes material for a ball nearly as big every year. A sphere about 15 feet in diameter would represent the production of Bolivia, through which country the silver ridge of the Andes runs. Few people know that Bolivia is third on the list of silver-producing Nations.

The entire silver production of the globe in 1895 would be represented by a sphere 35 feet in diameter, containing 170,000,000 ounces of the white metal. It is a very remarkable fact that the total stock of gold in the world is just about equal in value to the entire silver stock; each is approximately stated at $4,000,000,000. The largest stock of silver is owned by India—estimated at $900,000,000. But accurate figures with regard to that country are very hard to get, because of the propensity of the natives for hoarding. They either hide or turn into ornaments every bit of precious metal, whether silver or gold, they obtain. Much of it is buried and lost. China comes after India, with a stock of $750,000,000 worth of silver, and the United States is next, with $625,000,000.

During 1895 we exported $50,000,000 worth of silver. It goes out of the country as merchandise, and is treated just as if it were so much pig iron or wheat. All of it is handled by a few brokers in New York, who advance money to the refiners to enable them to pay for the ore that comes from the mines. The refiners forward the stuff to New York in the shape of bricks of about 1,100 ounces each, marked with the fineness. The brokers ship the ingots to Liverpool, whence they are sent by rail to London.

London is the silver market of the world, and there they are dealt in like any other commercial commodity, being finally sold and shipped away to India, Egypt, Brazil and other parts of the world. The American ingots go by the name of "cake silver." Considerable quantities of them go to China, where they are cut into pieces for a sort of currency that goes by weight. The pieces are called "tasls."

Many new industrial uses for silver have been found within recent years, thanks to the increasing cheapness of the metal. Not so very long ago only rich people were able to afford a table service of solid silver, but now the luxury is within the reach of the householder of very moderate means. It is a common thing for jewelers to advertise the spoons of sterling silver for their weight in silver dollars. There is good reason to believe that before long the metal will be much cheaper than at present. The mines of the Rockies have only been pecked at up to date. Deposits recently struck in Colorado have yielded $15,000 a ton. Exploiting such ores is like digging for wealth in the vaults of the Treasury. A single pocket in the Park Regent Mine at Aspen, Colo., about as big as a good-sized room, yielded $100,000.

Mrs. Rhodie Rhoads, of this place, was taken in the night with cramping plagues and the next day diarrhoea set in. She took half a bottle of blackberry cordial but got no relief. She then sent to me to see if I had anything that would help her. I sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and the first dose relieved her. Another of our neighbors had been sick for about a week and had tried different remedies for diarrhoea but got nothing better. I sent him this same remedy. Only four doses of it were required to cure him. He says he owes his recovery to this wonderful remedy.—Mrs. Mary Sibley, Sidney, Mich. For sale by J. J. James, Drugist.
